portion of a battery, accompanied by Gen. Tyler and staff, want out a little after 19 o'clock. They took up position on a hill two or three miles from Centreville, and half a mile from a creek called Bull Run, which commands the valley of the creek and the hills beyond for some distance. Balls from the heavy guns exploded on a barn on the right until 25 cavality emerged, who cheered and acattered. Six or cight rounds more brought an answer from a concealed battery, which wounded Sergeant Rohan, Company G. 3d Cavalry. A cannon ball broke his carbine and saber, and made a deep flesh wound in both of his legs. Two of Lieut. Benjamin's heavy guns were brought into action, and soon silenced the rebel battery.

Col. Richardson's Brigade, consisting of the 19th New York volunteers, the 1st Massachusetts, and 3d and 3d Michigan regiment, supported by Cavalry and abattery, was east sent out to skirmish along the creek. They soon succeeded in waking up rebel batteries on the other side, which were followed by a heavy fire of masketry, which our men returned with seal. For half an hour the boom of artillery and the rittle of small arms from both sides of the Creek followed each other fast.

In the opinion of officers who witnessed the engagement, their platoon firing was remarkably regular and effective, and their gus were served with great precision. They were twice rehiorced, and occupying a very strong position behind entrenchments in a wooded slope, covered by the creek, were too much for the small forte oppiced to them, making the assault, is not as yet dis-

PATTERSON SUPERCEDED BY

Meeting of the Convention

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

The War Office has surprised and delighted the town to-day, by designating General Banks to take the field in person at the head of Fatterson's column. Everybody says "amen," and there is a feeling of entire estisfaction that something will now be done with this splendid corps, wortha alike of the men and the cause. Gen. Fatterson was a three months' volunteer, and his term being up, the War Department has wisely decided not to renew it. His inactivity has been greatly consured here. The best that can be said in his behalf is that he is too old (70), and too little experienced, for a position requiring such vigor rienced, for a position requiring such vigor cus management. Banks fills the bill, and will strive to distinguish himself. Gen. Dix of New York is assigned to the command at Baltimore, where he is likely to be more use-ful than anywhere else. It is believed at mined stand at the Junction. Such is the appearance of things here. They seem, at least, to be disposed for a big battle. If they are withdrawing their forces in any number from Norfolk and Yorktown, General Butter will have a chance to worry them in that quarter. McClellan also is expected to play a part of no slight importance.

At the breaking out of the rebellion, timid people indelged in the most gloomy foreboilings, and when it became apparent that it would cost millions of money and probably the loss of tens of thousands of lives to put it down, the entire prostration of business and the ruin of all classes was confidently predicted. Such anticipations were at first entirely natural, and in some branches of business they must inevitably be realized. It is not necessary to specify them, for the sad reality will come fast enough upon those who cannot escape them; but while war is a terrible evil more. This afternoon there was a load of whisky, belonging to the same freight, taken by the home guards of 800t county, and brought here. Charlie Bloan, the owner of the ferry boat which we have in our possession, came back from the rebel camp and fell into the distches of Capi. Richards. Stom is a commissioned officer in the rebel array. There has been some perceious time thrown away in the fool inh passime of "swearing in "a few secessionists. I don't know whether that practice is to be continued ad inflations, or not, but I hope not. They diaregard the dath: but why speak of that? The perfectly misural and consistent that they should.

All boats are compelled to ball and pay their respects to our little Colonel. One boat, the Jacob Musulman, received a shot between wird and water, yesterday, before she saw fit to lay to, I think the cross country transportation from this point to the rebels has now come to an end.

The health of the camp is good; there is but very lew on the sick list. The wounded man of Company D, who was shot through the hend at Camp Prop, is on his feet again and in good condition; he arrived here last hops, under Lieut. Bradity, have been scouling three Friday morning; they have found rething of Importance, except a secossion
